GRAVESTONE INSCRIPTIONS --- COUNTY TIPPERARY

SECTION A --- BARONY OF LOWER ORMOND

VOLUME 3 --- PARISH OF CLOUGHPRIOR.

COMPILED BY : DENISE FOULKES.

THE ORMOND HISTORICAL SOCIETY --1982.

CLOUGHPRIOR (CLOGHPRIOR) GRAVEYARD.

Cloughprior graveyard is situated in the townland of Prior Park, and is the only graveyard in the parish of Cloughprior.

Within the graveyard are the ruins of a 15th century church, this would have been the parish church of Cloughprior and under the control of the Augustinian Abbey of Tyone, Nenagh. To-day the graveyard is part of the modern Catholic parish of Monsea.

There are 159 inscribed headstones in this graveyard, and all of them have been copied. In a small number of cases, it has proved impossible, owing to the stone being broken or badly weathered, to decipher the entire inscription. In these cases the missing words are indicated thus -----. The headstones are numbered in alphabetical order, there is a gap between 54 and 56 due to a typing error, not a missing stone.

The oldest monument in the graveyard is on a wall of the ruined church, it remembers the two wives of Solomon Cambie, one of whom died in 1684, and the other in 1687. Solomon Cambie was one of the Cromwellian grantees of this parish. There are two later memorials to members of the Cambie family on the neighbouring wall of the church.

Nearby is a monument to Saml. Barry, a descendant of Benjamin Barry, another Cromwellian grantee of this region.

The French family, of Carney Castle, are also buried within the church ruins. This family was alleged to have been cursed by one of their tenants, and all their sons died young.

The Waller family of Prior Park have a private burial ground beside the main cemetery, containing 18 inscribed headstones.

In the main graveyard there are monuments to 31 Hogans, with a range of dates from 1779 to the present day. Another widely represented family are the Spains with 18 inscribed monuments.

Two priests of penal times are buried here. They are the Rev. Dominick Harty who died in 1780, and the Revd. John Hogan, who was Parish Priest of Borrisokane for 20 years, and died in 1824 aged 90 years.

In the interests of brevity, many of the conventional religious texts, which appear on some of the headstones have been omitted.

Denise Foulkes. April 1982.
