

GRAVESTONE INSCRIPTIONS

COUNTY TIPPERARY

SECTION B: BARONY OF UPPER ORMOND

VOLUME 4: PARISH OF LISBONEY

Compiled by Denise Foulkes

ORMOND HISTORICAL SOCIETY, 1986

INTRODUCTION

The civil parish of Lisboney is bounded by Nenagh, Ballymackey, Kilruane, Kilkeary and Ballinacclough parishes.

The total extent of the parish is approximately 4,400 acres.

O'Kennedys were the principal owners of the land when the Civil Survey was recorded in 1654. The other names of owners were O'Meara, Grace, Magrath and James Butler, Earl of Ormond.

The graveyard lies beside the main Dublin road about 1½ miles on the Roscrea side of Nenagh. The site contains the ruins of the parish church of which no distinguishing features remain.

There is an extensive graveyard in the adjoining field but as burials there date from the 1950s no inscriptions have been copied.

Lisboney parish is incorporated in the Roman Catholic parish of Nenagh and Nenagh Union Church of Ireland.

There are quite a number of 18th century stones in the graveyard but none older than the middle of that century.

In all 290 inscriptions have been transcribed. Where it has proved impossible to decipher part of an inscription it is recorded thus: ---. Where there is a doubt about the interpretation, usually as regards a date, it is recorded thus: ?1796 ?1790 with the more likely date first.
