I have read most works relating to Irish antiquities and especially those relating to the ruins existing in the County of Wick, and have therefore had the opportunity of testing the accuracy of the information which has been given to me by Mr. Hoskins the finder of these Ruins, and I am happy to say that the account which he has given of the buildings and the tombs has been most complete and accurate, & that his manner has been extremely obliging.

Observations

I have read much on the antiquities of Ireland, and I felt much pleasure on visiting the ruins of the rock of Leishel to find in Mr George Waskins a guide in every way qualified to interpret the old books and furnish his contemporary knowledge as to the true sense & signification of many things about these celebrated ruins which without his assistance would prove mere & meaningless as the traveler William Collier

Observations

visited the Rock & has much pleased with all I saw. And the account the guide gave me.
He seems an most intelligent person. After going, there all I found a good lunch & glass of Guinness & first rate as I felt mighty hungry but I'm sure the guide must be thirsty as he talked a fine lot (Alvin Swollen)

I have had some experience of "guides" ^{who} often make the effect of such scenes and objects by their dry & feelingless narration - but I must bear testimony to how truly worthy Mr Barker seems to fill this difficult & honoured position.

Observations

The only observation I made that the stairs are in very bad repair - and that it was very windy. As for the guide he talks too much

A Smith

As this is about the tenth time I have visited this far famed rock of Lushet and as I have never yet thought of entering my observations I think it advisable to inform the sight seeing guests who may follow my example in coming here as often as they can that it is the most interesting place I ever put my foot in. The guide it must be confessed is the only object worth looking at. J. Robinson

Observations

I have visited the Ancient Buildings The old Castle of Sra U'Kraise the Sions of Dublin & my spirit's fire Highly exhilarated in viewing these ancient rocks of Cashel beautifully delineated By the Saxon
— J. M.

On this my fourth visit to the far-famed "Rock of Cashel," I feel that I should be doing a positive injustice to the public, did I not record my opinion, as to his anti-quarian ability and great intelligence in relating, perfectly plain, to men an utter stranger, the various circumstances of this ancient The only real value due to this history — if any — arises from the fact of the writer having seen and collected in the different countries of Europe the pronouncer Mr. Mac Ginn the best and intelligent guide to be met with. Council

Observations

I have much pleasure in recommending Mr George Haskins to the visitors of this ancient & interesting ~~Remains~~ - His knowledge of the Historical Events which render the Rock of the City of the Kings so remarkable is invaluable to the Tourist on his

We were highly gratified at finding this remarkable Eggs in such a high state of preservation and we conceive that too much praise cannot be bestowed upon Cathlamet Cotton to whose exertions this valuable relic owes its present appearance which must always be a most interesting spectacle to those who feel an interest in the antiquities of Ireland we feel more than satisfied with the attention and intelligence

Observations

Here on a ruined ruin through Ireland - curious to see its singular round towers - I visit first that on Cashel Rock. about whose ruin I have been with much interest Edified by the able & excellent remarks of its intelligent & interesting guide - have insured the safety of the future Mrs Read (for I am a bachelor) by embracing the Cross.

my opinion that the bones under the tomb of Jeremiah Ryan are exceedingly fine specimens of the Canine species in the 11th Century.—

Observations

26th July 1860 - On this day I visited the far-famed Ruins of the Rock of Cashel - any difficulty I had to contend with in endeavouring to decipher the inscriptions on the ancient Monuments were completely removed by the assistance of the Guide Mr. George Hoskins. ~~as~~ I was indeed astonished to find in this district a person so intelligent ~~and~~ and at the same time so very obliging - his knowledge of the antiquities of the "Rock" indeed amazed me, and I only regret that fortune has not placed him in a more exalted position where his many abilities would have been better displayed

Observations

Remarkable Case of Hydrophobia

A lady here refused to drink of water For fear she'd have a son or daughter.
She's for a walk she much would care Strange she lik'd not the sun or air
