Fáilte

Is cuis mhor athais dom failte a chur roimh gach aoinne a ta I lathair Mainistir Na Croise inniu agus ta suil agam go mbeidh sar - chluiche againn.

It is my privilege to extend a special welcome to all on the occasion of this Mid Senior Hurling Championship Final. This is a day which represents the culmination of a number of games played with spirit, sportmanship and determination to decide the kingpins of senior hurling in Mid Tipperary.

Today, we welcome Thurles Sarsfields and Drom Inch, where both teams have battled their way to today's final, with this years championship being run on a knock out system. Thurles Sarsfields will be hoping to reclaim Mid Honours last held in 2001 while Drom Inch will be eager to bridge a gap of 21 years back to their last victory in 1984.

In today's curtain raiser, we have the unusual pairing of Thurles Sarsfields and Movcarkey Borris in the Minor Football Final and a great game is envisaged between these two young teams. Tipperary may be down just now by its own high standards, but the success of the county deserves and which we all desire may be just around the corner. We earnestly hope that to-days final and the hurlers of Sarsfields and Drom Inch will provide the signs of bigger and better days for our county in the not too distant future.

We would like to thank the host club Holycross Ballycahill for their warm welcome and splendid arrangements for today's final. Also, I would like to acknowledge and thank Mac Lochlainn Road Markings for their support and kind sponsorship of our Mid Senior Hurling Championship for which I am sincerely grateful.

As my final term of Chairman of the Board draws to a close, I wish to express my sincere thanks to the Gaels of the division:- players, officials, field committee, referees, linesmen, umpires and all our loyal supporters for their help and co-operation at all times. The people I have encountered in my three years as chairman, the amount of goodwill from so many, and the determination of all to do something positive on behalf of the Association has been a source of satisfaction to me and ample reward for my efforts as chairman.

Finally, it remains for me to wish all teams well and hope that this will be a memorable final.

Thro' the Thatch

The sportsgear worn by members of Thurles Sarsfields G.A.A. Club has, for some time now, included a crest containing the legend 'Thro' the Thatch' and the words G.A.A., Thurles.

The origin of the legend dates back to the eighteenth century, a time when hurling in the mid Tipperary area was flourishing mainly due to its association with the landed gentry. They were openly and actively involved in the hurling as players, team captains, trainers and powerful patrons. The newspapers of the time leave us in no doubt as to the influence of the landlords and the popularity of hurling, with several references to games played at Brittas, Thurles, Galbertstown, Loughmore etc.

Baron Purcell of Loughmore had his own private team with their hurling field beside his castle. In Thurles Lord Matthew, Earl of Llandaff, whose residence was in the town, also had his own celebrated team of hurlers of which he was justifiably proud. In a hurling match between teams of both of these great hurling patrons, one of the most famous of the Thurles team struck the ball with such force that it went clean through the thatch of a nearby cottage and broke several of the kitchen utensils inside. Ever since then 'Thro' the Thatch' has been a rallying cry for many a Thurles team.

As a crest it was to be seen on the jerseys of the old Thurles "Blues" captained so successfully by Tom Semple in the first decade of the last century. Large numbers of supporters also wore a printed cardboard badge similar to the crest. Luckily a few of these badges have survived to the present day and are treasured memorabilia of that bygone era. Principal designer of the crest was Sarsfields club secretary of that time - J.M. Kennedy. He was Thurles Town Clerk and he later compiled - A Chronology of Thurles (1945).

The Shamrock, with its traditional Christian and Irish symbolism, acts as a background to the crest. G.A.A. founder Michael Cusack, who always held Thurles in high regard, added an extra dimension to the significance of the three leafed shamrock. At the G.A.A. foundation meeting in Hayes' Hotel in 1884, he sought to place the new association under the patronage of Archbishop Thomas Croke, Charles Stewart Parnell and Michael Davitt. As Cusack put it: - "Three names, as the three leafed shamrock, that go to the heart of every true son of the Green Isle".

Recalling the era of the Thurles "Blues" old hands remember that, during a game, whenever the tan (hurling ball) reached the forwards the cry would go up - "Now lads 'Thro the Thatch'. It was invariably the signal for an all out Thurles onslaught.

DROM - INCH

Drom-Inch Captain Pat Looby receiving the Junior B Mid Cup from Mid Chairman John Doyle in 2004.

While it may have been 21 years since Drom-Inch last won a Mid Senior Final what is even more remarkable is that Pat Looby is the only remaining member of that famous team of 1984 who still continues playing to this day, for the Tipperary Masters as recently as last week and captaining the Junior B's to a Mid Final in 2004 continuing a career that has lasted more than 30 years. Born in 1958 Pat showed promise from an early age and made his adult debut in a Junior League in 1973 aged just 15 years. While silverware would elude him, at adult level for a number of years, this would not be the case at Juvenile when an All Ireland Vocational School medal in 1974 was followed by a Minor All Ireland medal in 1976 and All Ireland U21 medal in 1979. The high points in Pat's career mirror that of his Club winning the Mid Senior Title in 1984 along with a Mid Junior Football title. While Pat retired from Senior Hurling in 1990 he has been on several successful Junior teams most notably winning the Mid Junior double in 1991/92.

In the last few years Pat has become more involved in coaching he is currently the coach of the Junior and U14 teams and their success is a testament to his skill enthusiasm and experience that he brings to the training field.

Recent History of the Club

Whilst success at Senior level has been limited to 2 Mid Senior Titles, in 1974 and 1984, the club is now beginning to see the fruits of work carried out at Underage level since the early 1990's which was made possible through the dedication of club volunteers in developing an underage coaching structure and the opening of its Official grounds in 1990 which allowed the juvenile players to reach their full potential. Drom-Inch started to become a major force in the Juvenile grades from 1995 when they won a Minor County B Final, this was quickly followed up with 3 Mid Minor A Titles in a Row 1996-'98, County Minor A Final 1998, 2 County U-21 Titles in 2000 and 2001 and most recently a Mid Minor Title in 2004. All of the current Senior players have been on successful underage teams. The club continues to go from strength to strength with 2004 being a remarkable year, on the field we won The Cahill Cup, Co. Senior Div. 3 League, Mid Junior A Hurling Championship & League, Mid Junior B Hurling Championship & League, Mid Junior A Football Championship, and Mid Minor A Hurling & Football Championships. Off the field the club undertook a major uparading of its official grounds to cope with the increasing demands, building extra dressing rooms a kitchen and a meeting area.

John Doyle

P.J. Leahy P.R.O. Mid-Board

To mark the occasion of holding our mid senior hurling final in Holycross today, the Mid Board has invited Holycross-Ballycahill's favourite son otherwise known as the Legend John Doyle to throw in the ball at the start of today's final. John was just nineteen years when he first played for Tipperaryat left full back against Cork in the 1949 Munster Hurling championship.

When he left the field of play after the 1967 All Ireland hurling final having been defeated by Kilkenny John had won eight All Ireland senior hurling championship medals from ten finals, ten Munster senior hurling championship medals from fourteen finals he participated in and he added a record total of eleven National Hurling League medals.

In 1964 John won the Texaco Hurler of the year award. In 1984 John received a decisive vote for the left corner back position on the Sunday Independent/Irish Nationwide G.A.A. Hurling team of the Century chosen after a national poll.

The late Raymond Smith of the Irish Independent described John as a Colossus in defence - the Matt The Thresher, if you want it in more romanticised form, in an era when hurling was much tougher and rougher than it is today. John won five Mid Senior and three County Senior Hurling titles with his native Holycross.

My own recollection of this great man whom I had seen playing in Croke Park on All-Ireland final days of the early sixties when I was working in Dublin, and photographed in Seamus Kings book, Tipperary's G.A.A. Story 1933-1984, after John winning his eight All-Ireland medal could be best summed up in the last verse of Pat Murray's song "Our Hero John Doyle".

Ah! tis well I remember those All-Ireland days
When John from Tipperary we'd all sing his praise
He was strong as Cu Chulainn as tough as they came
The greatest defender we've known in the game
All the fans in Croke Park would be cheering for John
And all the stands would erupt when they'd sing Slievenamon
As he gathered the ball and near send it a mile
We'd all shout for Tipperary and our hero John Doyle.

MEET THE CAPTAINS

Sarsfields Captain – Ger 'Redser' O'Grady

Today Ger O'Grady realizes a lifetime ambition when he leads out Sarsfields in a Mid senior hurling final.

Known throughout the length and breadth of Tipperary and indeed further afield as 'Redser', he has become one of the most instantly recognizable characters on the GAA fields of Ireland and is a real favorite in the terraces, especially when donning the blue and gold of The Premier County.

Redser's rise to prominence has been a gradual one though. Having represented Sarsfields and Tipperary at minor and u-21 level, senior success with the county was not immediate. Sure, he has been a regular with The Blues for many seasons, but it is only in 2005 that he managed to nail down a regular spot in the county jersey. He also hurled and played football for Durlas Og at underage where he was a real star, and with Thurles Fennelly's.

A prolific scorer, Redser will be hoping to bring a silver lining to the Blues season by hitting a purple patch and producing a golden performance. He already has one Mid senior hurling Final Man of the Match Award under his belt—what's the odds on a second one coming his way?

Damian Young receiving the Cahill Cup in 2004.

Drom-Inch Captain -Damian Young Name: Damian Young

Age 24

Job Description: G.A.A. Development Officer at W.I.T Who was the person who most influenced you as a hurler?
